FRIGHTFUL COLLISION

Suburban and Excursion Trains Collide

At a Railroad Crossing in Chicago.

Five People Killed and Several Others Fatally Injured—Wrecks at Other Places.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A terrible railroad accident occurred in the southwestern portion of the city shortly after dark this evening. A Chicago, Burlington and Quincy suburban train dashed into an Illinois Central excursion train returning from outside the city. The collision resulted in a frightful tragedy.

For a time the confusion was so great that even an approximate idea of the loss of life was impossible to obtain.

The first reports from the police had it that forty people had probably met with death, while the railroad officials said that only two or three persons were certainly known to have been killed.

Within half an hour, however, five mangled corpses had been dragged out of the heap of broken timbers and twisted iron that marked the spot where the collision had taken place. By this time it had also been ascertained that at least three people were seriously injured and six others slightly injured.

The collision took place near Douglas Park and the victims were Sunday excursionists just reaching the city, on their way home from their outing.

The suburban train crew, when questioned, asserted that they passed Millard avenue under a clear signal. Millard avenue is only a short distance from where the smash-up occurred. The suburban crew also claim that when the crash came the red lights on the rear of the Illinois Central train were burning with extreme dimness. To this the fearful result following was attributed without hesitation.

Other people state that the Burlington train was behind time and running at a reckless rate and to this was due the fact that the engineer could not stop when he saw the Illinois Central lights. The latter train was "unblocked" and waiting to be released when run into.

The dead are: Lily Diener, Martha Diener, Otto Schloeff, aged 17, and two men unknown. The fatally injured are: Lena Reising, Minnie Pilgrim and Eddie Torpe. In addition to these, a dozen other people were more or less seriously bruised and some of them had limbs fractured. The conductor and engineer have been arrested.

THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Three Men Killed in an Iowa Railway Accident.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, September 21.—A freight train on the Omaha and St. Louis Railroad went through a trestle, about seven miles from this city, at an early hour this morning.

Engineer Martin Eckridge, Fireman Joseph Burke and Brakeman R. S. Williams were killed; the remainder of the crew escaped. The trestle was approached around a curve and the engineer saw it too late that was on fire. The train went fifty feet to the bottom of the gulch.

COLLIDING ENGINES.

Another Freight Train Disaster in the East.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., September 21.—A fast freight on the Baltimore and Ohio ran into another freight train near here today.

The engine of the wrecked train went for assistance and while returning, through the flagman's carelessness, was run into by the wrecking train. Engineer Shield, Fireman Cuppen and Fireman Reynolds were badly cut and scalded.

RAILWAY ENGINEERS

Endorse Chief Arthur's Attitude in the Great Strike.

NEW YORK, September 21.—The grand union meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, with delegates present from all over the country, began here today. Chief Arthur presided.

The meeting put into the form of a resolution its views of Grand Chief Arthur's attitude in relation to the late strike on the New York Central, unanimously approving the instructions given. A significant feature of the meeting was the submission of a scheme for federation of railway employees. As the meeting was secret the nature of the scheme could not be learned.

TOOK MORPHINE.

Suicide of an Unhappy Woman in Bloomington, Ill.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., September 21.—Mrs. F. McMillan, who was divorced a week ago from Fred McMillan, manager of Fay Templeton, was found dead in her room in the hotel this morning, having committed suicide with morphine.

She was a cousin of Governor Campbell of Ohio. All her possessions worth $10,000, she left to a chambermaid in the hotel who had been kind to her.

WILL LIKELY DIE.

Mrs. C. H. Notware, of Carson, is Thrown From a Buggy.

CARSON, Nevada, September 21.—Mrs. C. H. Notware was thrown from a buggy this evening. She struck on the left side of her head, making a gash six inches long and two inches deep, laying the skull open and exposing the brain.

The chances of living are against her. Miss Kate Bardenwerter, riding in the same vehicle, received only slight scratches.

THE TRAIN WRECKERS.

Knights of Labor Will Help to Bring Them to Justice.

PHILADELPHIA, September 21.—General Master Workman Powderly left the city today, before a reporter could see him regarding the confession of the three New York Central train wreckers, implicating Master Workman Lee.

In his absence, Mr. Wright, of the General Executive Board, said that until the confessions were published the board believe the accused men innocent, but since they confess that they took part in the wrecking, the board will make a thorough investigation and lend every assistance to the authorities to bring the guilty parties to justice. Mr. Wright could not believe that Master Workman Lee had any knowledge of the affair.

FOR MUTUAL AID.

Engineers and Conductors Organize a New Association.

CHICAGO, September 21.—An important combination of the engineers and conductors employed on the Chicago and Northwestern system was formed here today with the name of the "Association of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Order of Railway Conductors."

H. E. Willis, of Clinton, Iowa, was chosen Chairman. To a reporter he said that the Association had been formed for mutual benefit. Its formation must not be taken, he said, as an indication of any trouble brewing. On the contrary the best of feeling exists between the employees and the managers of the Northwestern system. An important feature of the agreement is that each organization will aid the other in case of any trouble with the company.

STABBING AFFRAY.

Italians Fight Among Themselves and Some are Injured.

HARTFORD, Conn., September 21.—A stabbing affray occurred in this city tonight between a party of Italians.

Dominick Muscarello was stabbed in the heart and killed. One other man, name not known, was probably fatally stabbed. Antonio Cerri was stabbed under the left arm. Joseph Newell was cut in the neck and has been arrested on suspicion of committing the murder, as a stiletto has been found in a closet belonging to him. His wife was seen going there shortly after the murder. Another knife was found on his wife and another in the street. Four others have been arrested on suspicion.

TARIFF BILL CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, September 21.—The Republican conference on the tariff bill were in session all day today. One of them said tonight he was well satisfied with the progress made, but declined to talk regarding the changes made. He thinks it likely that the report will be finished Tuesday night.

Does Not Like Prize Fighting.

LONDON, September 21.—The news protests against the Slavin-McAuliffe fight. It says: "The parties will be grossly disappointed unless they get blood for their money. It is the same as if they were permitted to indulge in their pleasure in open defiance of the spirit of the law."

Clearing House Exchanges.

BOSTON, September 21.—The total gross exchanges for the last week, as shown by dispatches from the leading clearing houses of the United States and Canada, are $1,295,969,623, an increase of 21.5 per cent, as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

An Imperiled Crew.

OTTAWA, Ont., September 21.—The double raft struck in DuChene rapids yesterday and so far no efforts to reach it have been successful. Much excitement prevails, the position of the crew being most perilous. If the raft should break up it would be impossible to save them.

A Boy Burned to Death.

TRIOY, N. Y., September 21.—At a late hour tonight at Sycamore Villa, this county, the residence of Mr. Manchester, a wealthy New York broker, was totally destroyed by fire, and Manchester's 12-year-old son burned to death.

FROM OVER THE OCEAN

End of the German Army Manoeuvres.

Agitated Over the McKinley Tariff Bill.

Vienna Papers Advancing Retaliation Against the United States—Bismarck's Criticism.

Copyright, 1890, by New York Associated Press.

BERLIN, September 21.—After a grand parade of troops near Eichenholz this morning, Emperor William and Francis Joseph parted with embraces and kissing, after compliments by speeches on either side and much cheering by the retainers. Emperor William thanked Emperor Francis Joseph and the King of Saxony for attending the manoeuvres and said he hoped that they had seen him convinced that the army remained as effective under his leadership as it was under that of Emperor William I.

Semi-official information has been obtained to the effect that Austria has taken the initiative in proposing concerted European action against the McKinley tariff bill. Reports in the Paris newspapers that France had been invited to join the Dreibund do not mean a political league, but a league whose object will be to take common commercial reprisals against America.

The reports, however, were entirely premature. Chancellor von Caprivi evidently feeling himself incapable of deciding the complicated questions involved in a tariff war, declined to commit Germany to any action before consulting his colleagues.

It is probable Count Kalnoky and Ribot, French Minister for Foreign Affairs, exchanged views on the matter. Officials of the foreign office here deny that there has been any communication with the French government on the subject since the outbreak of Ribot's resignation were allowed to drop.

Herr Miquel is opposed to any measure tending to increase the cost of necessary articles of food.

The taxation reforms which he is preparing will draw upon the resources of the money class and do not touch the food of the common. The spirit of this policy is in the direction of reciprocity, not retaliation. If Chancellor von Caprivi is guided by his colleagues, Germany's assent to join France, Austria and Italy in a Zollverein against America, will never be given.

The Vienna press, which is more exercised over the tariff question than are the German papers, discusses the advisability of retaliating by placing a general European ban upon American products by refusing to protect American patents, and various other methods incompatible for countries having important commercial relations with the United States.

Emperor William's visit to Vienna is now fixed for October 1, when the conference will be resumed. The interviews at Rhonstock have not resulted in any agreement, and a despatch between the Austrian Emperor and the Czar, which was projected by Emperor William. Diplomatic advantage in the meantime appears to depend on Austria taking the assurance of German support in the Balkans.

Prince Bismarck, through the Hamburger Nachrichten, attacks the government for its departure from his policy. The ex-Chancellor maintains that it will be a grievous fault if the Berlin Statecraft makes Austrian eastern troubles, with Russia, Germany's own.

WORK FOR CONGRESS.

What the Two Houses Have on Hand for This Week.

WASHINGTON, September 21.—The unfinished business before the Senate is the bill for the relief of the Supreme Court. It is probable some action will be taken on this and the bill for a court for private land claims, but it is difficult to say what it will be.

Bills next on the order of business are two labor bills and they will be called up on Tuesday.

An agreement of the conferees on the tariff is not probable before Tuesday or Wednesday. In the House the Langston-Venable election case has reached the previous question stage and requires further action before any other business can be touched. Republicans expect to have a quorum of their own Monday or Tuesday. What follows the election case depends largely on the Tariff bill. When that measure and the General Deficiency bill are disposed of the House will practically be ready to adjourn.

NATIONAL ODD FELLOWS.

The Grand Lodge Closes Its Annual Session at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, September 21.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., concluded its annual session yesterday. The resolution was adopted deprecating the holding of a National Convention by the Daughters of Rebekah. The Grand Lodge declined to take any action in the matter of barring saloon keepers from membership. General Underwood was re-elected. The next convention will be in St. Louis.

O'Brien Speaks of the Arrests.

LONDON, September 21.—In an interview today, Wm. O'Brien, speaking of the arrest of Dillon and himself, said that the Government evidently intended to have a sort of State trial, which would consider every petty act and imprudent speech since the Tipperary fight commenced. No matter what happened he was sure the mission would be sent to America. He had every confidence that Americans would rise to the occasion.

The Slavin-McAuliffe Mill.

LONDON, September 21.—Slavin and McAuliffe, who are to fight at the Ormond club, have arrived here from their training quarters. Richard K. Fox expressed himself as certain of his protégé's success, unless Slavin is able to hold out for six rounds, when he admits that the issue will be doubtful. The betting on the fight is about even and wagers are not heavy.

Criticisms on Peter J. Brady's Nomination.

Death of "Tex," a Famous Old-Time Scout—Arrest of a Murderer by Soldiers.

Correspondence Tucson Citizen.

The taxpayers of Nogales were pleased to read your editorial showing the inwisdom of Peter Brady's nomination.

I desire to call the attention of the property owners of Pima county to a singular coincidence in the nomination of Peter Brady and in the selection of the Legislative ticket of Pima county.

Boss Barnes, who nominated Brady, also ran the Democratic Convention of Pima county. The boss was not satisfied to name the county Democratic ticket and the Legislative ticket from this county, but took the trouble to go to Phoenix and log roll for Peter Brady's nomination.

What does this all mean? The taxpayers of Nogales see in this superhuman effort to control both the executive offices of Pima county and our Legislative nominations, a deep laid scheme to multiply the demands of the people for retrenchment and a reduction of the expenses of the government.

Query: Is the local Democratic boss in the pay of the officeholders to secure a Legislature which will stand as a barrier between the greed and the righteously demanded of the taxpayer's organization for an immediate reduction of current expenses? If not, why was Peter Brady nominated for Joint Councilman?

Not because he is worthy of the position, for it is known that he is the embodiment of the principle against which the people of Pima county are struggling, the last man whose name should be in connection with the next Legislature.

Pete Brady should blush to ask an honest man to vote for him for any office until he pays into the treasury of the Territory of Arizona the penitentiary defalcation which could not have occurred without Brady's shameful neglect of a grave public duty.

Murdered and Burned.

From the Florence Enterprise.

A telegram was received on Tuesday by Sheriff Fryer, from San Carlos stating that a detachment of scouts under Lieutenant Watson, while scouting for renegade Indians on Ash creek during Sunday night saw a camp fire and upon cautiously approaching it found George J. Apsey in the act of burning the body of a man whom he had murdered. The dispatch stated that the victim was a person about 30 years of age, called "Andy," but no further details were given, excepting that Apsey was taken into custody and conveyed to San Carlos where he is held subject to the orders of the Pinal county authorities. Word was sent to Mammoth, the nearest precinct, and Justice H. B. Pinching probably held an inquest upon the remains yesterday. An officer will be dispatched to San Carlos for Apsey and he will be brought to the county jail in Florence.

Apsey is a man well known in this section. He was formerly employed at Hugh Hewitt's stock ranch on Queen creek and afterwards took up a ranch on Ash creek, near Aravaipa, and raised vegetables, sold butter, eggs, and other farm products to the miners at Mammoth and occasionally made trips to Florence. He was a sailor in former years and when he met Tom McLeallen the two old salts would spin sea yarns hours at a time.

Candidates Announcement.

From the Mohave County Miner.

EDITOR MINER:—Seeing that candidates for office do not come forward, and in order to encourage them to do so, I offer myself as a candidate for the Legislature. As to my qualifications, I am a "49er," and during the time I have been on the coast I have been engaged in most of the businesses followed here, such as mining, stock raising, farming, and even whiskey selling, so that I am familiar with the interests of the people of this country. Reform is the demand. I am a reformed Democrat, and opposed to monopolies and corners of every description, and particularly to that corner made by the Mormons in Heaven's last and best gift to man. I am not in favor of prohibition, the climate is too dry for that, but would be in favor of any measure that would improve the reputation of the liquor sold in this Territory, which, I am sorry to say, is bad.

I am in favor of all advanced ideas, such as women's suffrage—in fact, I would be in favor of reducing the voting age of women to 18 years, as it is evident to all who have had any experience that a girl of 18 knows as much, if not more, than a young man of 21.

As to my character, intelligence and honesty, I feel that I am nearly, if not quite up to the average of Arizona's legislators. With these few remarks I remain a candidate, subject to the decision of the Republican Convention of Mohave county.

ALFRED C. LONGMOORE.

Death of an Old Scout.

From the Tombstone Prospector.

Jack Smith, better known as "Tex," died last night, after a short spell of sickness. There was no one with him when he died, and the first intimation anyone had of his demise was when he was found some hours after he breathed his last.

"Tex" was a scout in New Mexico before coming to Arizona.

In the campaign against Victorio in '80 he was in the field and was also with Crook in his Geronimo campaign into Mexico and assisted General Miles after Crook's removal. He was an adobe layer by trade and worked at this business whenever he had nothing else to do.
